Health Tip From Our Parish Nurses: Best Food Choices to Reduce Your Cancer Risk

What role does diet really play in cancer prevention? Start with these foods.

The American Institute for Cancer Research's Continuous Update Reports on cancer research have concluded:

- Diets high in whole grains and other foods containing fiber protect against colorectal cancer.
- Diets high in carrots, squash and other foods containing carotenoids reduce the risk of mouth, pharynx and larynx cancers.
- Diets high in non-starchy vegetables- such as broccoli, lettuces and beans- protect against esophageal cancer.
- Cutting processed meat out of the diet, and moderating red meat intake to no more than 18 ounces (cooked) per week, reduces the risk of colorectal cancer.
- Foods high in vitamin C probably lower the risk of esophageal cancer.
- Foods high in lycopene probably lower the risk of prostate cancer.

St. Augustine Medal of Service Award

Ed and Cathy McGettigan received the 2014 St. Augustine Medal of Service Award for St. Mathew Parish on Saturday, October 25th at St. Augustine Cathedral. They were honored for the many ways and the many years that they have unselfishly given of their time and talents to serve the people of St. Matthew and to help build up our community.

Ed and Cathy are always asking "How can we help?" Whenever there is a need, Ed and Cathy are always willing to assist. A parish can only survive if it has the dedication and ongoing support of its parishioners. Ed and Cathy are truly that, dedicated and true to their beliefs that in serving others, we truly are serving the Lord.
