SHARE THE BALL – NORWALK is offering youth basketball summer camps for grades K-5 during the weeks of July 10-14, July 17-21, and July 24-28, from 9AM-12PM. Campers will be introduced to basic rules, skills, and fundamentals, through fun, small-sided game instruction. Each day will start with a full-group warm-up and skill work in group instruction. There will be a mid-morning snack break followed by small-sided gameplay incorporating the skills worked on earlier. Games will be age-appropriate and will take place after the campers have been introduced to a skill.

Camp Director, Phil D’Amato, has been teaching elementary school physical education in the Greenwich Public Schools for the past 14 years, and is a former Head Varsity Boys Basketball Coach at Greenwich High School, an Assistant Boys Varsity Head Coach at Haldane High School (NY), and was a member of the Endicott College (MA) Men’s Basketball team as a student assistant and practice player. Coach Phil helps run our weekend K-5 clinics.

Share the Ball is driven to provide high-quality, high-energy basketball programs focused on skill development, engagement, teamwork, community, physical activity and FUN. Share the Ball was founded by high school coaches, college players and basketball enthusiasts with a deep passion for the game. Our parents should anticipate an energetic camp opportunity for their children, where they can hone their basketball skills in a fun environment.

NORWALK JUNIOR LACROSSE is a community-based, not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing lacrosse opportunities to the youth of the greater Norwalk area. NJL has successfully operated for more than 30 years connecting with thousands of children and families. The program is rooted in quality instruction at the elementary level offering introductory clinics as well as house and travel teams across K-8th grades. Norwalk is centered in one of the country’s most robust lacrosse regions. NJL exists to make sure the children of Norwalk have every opportunity to play and excel in the game the area has fully embraced!

NJL is excited to offer summer programming this year with 3 weeks of clinic based camps. The camps will focus on skill building and light competition. The objective is to build up players familiar with the game and introduce key concepts to newcomers. Summer camps will be held at the fully air conditioned, St Matthews Rec Center where NJL runs winter indoor “Box Lacrosse” programs. Pads and helmets are not required as contact will be limited. Camps are open to boys and girls that want to learn and get better!
